Mexico Has Them

By Arthur Brisbane
HERMOSELLO, capital of Sonora, Mexico, Feb. 20.—The Indian word Hermosillo means "little beauty." And His Excellency Francisco Elias, governor of this state, says it applies to the city and to each woman in it. On the streets, in stores, or at work in government offices, you see beautiful young girls. There is not a bobbed head or a shaved neck among them. Their dark hair falls, naturally curly, down on their shoulders and necks, sometimes fastened with a ribbon. Their eyes are low-set, demurely, but when a young rancher from California asks one of them a question and she raises her eyes his carefully prepared Spanish words are driven from his mind.

This is a beautiful old city, one of the most important and progressive in Mexico. The soil is so fertile that even with dry farming of wheat it yields 50 bushels of crop for one bushel of sown seed. A soil expert, sent by the British government to seek land for corn growing, reported that the area west of Hermosillo has the fertility of the Nile Valley.

The state and federal governments concentrate on three things—Education, on the one hand, building good roads, finding employment for the idle—while seeking for money to build a canal and perhaps on to Tierra del Fuego. That is pleasant talk. But in the meanwhile, Governor Elias has gigantic machines scattered between Hermosillo and Nogales, 375 miles, and will have that road finished in a year, and then, if he has a more modern road machinery. Giant tractors and grading machines could be seen working on the new highway south yesterday, hundreds of men with stumpy pulleys and blasting material working ahead of the road machinery.

All that equipment is bought in the United States. Mexico is a good customer and a good friend of this country. Governor Elias went to college and sent his boys to school in the United States. President Ortiz Rubio has two sons studying in the United States now. Twenty acres of new parks and playgrounds are now building in the heart of Hermosillo, with baseball and football fields. Yesterday there arrived caravans of skiers and hikers. "Himalayas, alpine, slender cypress trees, rose bushes, etc., bought at Ontario, Cal.

Within a year Americans will drive here from the border line at Nogales in five hours, thousands of them, on the new road. Meanwhile the Southern Pacific of Mexico brings you here comfortably in Pullman cars. There are endless opportunities here for those able to see the train stops for awhile, a familiar face is that of L. O. Kelly, who is now manager of a graphite mine at the state of Sonora. Born in Sparta, Greece, Mr. Kelly says Mexico is the place for men with energy, and his graphite has "no grit in it" and is out of the ground 75 per cent pure.

Managers of the International Telephone Co. and Mr. O'Leary, head of the big company, would see something interesting along the Southern Pacific of Mexico tracks. At Castia and all the way back to Nogales, a telephone line is building, but not by Americans, or in the old clumsy method of the Swedish Match Company. Making this line as he is building all over the earth. His telephone poles, so bigger and better than your wire, are made of steel, three pieces joined together like a demountable fishing rod, on a base of concrete. Metal cross arms and cross arms braces carried by the wires. Six men can do the work of 30.

Hermosillo and other parts of Mexico, by the way, are "Asianic problem." Many of the most important stores in Hermosillo have fallen into the hands of Chinese merchants, active, always working, efficient. You need a store in Hermosillo sign "Lapin," "La Primavera" and beneath it the owner's name, "Garcia Juan Lung." Mexicans do not lack respect for the Chinese or their ability, but they cannot compete with them and do not intend to endure the competition.

Police Move Against Two Cafes to Save Girls

25 Storm Employment Bureau

CALL POLICE AS NOTIS FEARED

Army of Jobless Fight to Obtain Work Clearing City Streets of Snow

Twenty police were rushed to the municipal employment bureau, 25 Church st., South End, today, as more than 2500 men descended on the place demanding work shoveling snow. The first few officers to arrive were roughly handled, due chiefly to the size of the crowd which was attempting to gain entrance at the front and rear of the small building. After a struggle in which no blows were struck, but with much shoving around of both police and unemployed, Sgt. Edward Carey and a squad from Lagrange and Fayette sts. Six hundred were quickly sent to work in response to a call from the Public Works Department, and from time to time more jobs were provided.

STORMED BY CROWD
The near-riot started when Director John J. Shields and two assistants, Mr. O. Kelly, who arrived at 7:20, nearly two hours ahead of the usual time, in anticipation of the crowd. As soon as they opened the outer doors the crowd, then numbering 2000, stormed into the place. Shields, quieted them temporarily while he called the Public Works Department, but unable to get a definite request for workers right away, he found it necessary to telephone for police assistance in keeping the crowd in order.

"We want work," many of them filling the office and the street outside were shouting as Sgt. Carey arrived with Patrolmen Martin Cackley and Patrick Shaw, followed soon after by another squad from Lagrange and Fayette, and one from the police station in keeping the crowd in order.

Many given work
A call for 600 men at various city yards was received from Public Works Commissioner Joseph J. McKenna. After these men were sent away arrangements were made to have the more trucks call at the bureau to pick up additional details and then direct them to the scene of work.

HOOPER, GEORGE POLICE MOVE TO RESTRAIN 2 CAFES
Prompt Veto is Awaited, but Cash is Made Ready to Lend to Applicants
Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—The veterans' loan relief bill was signed today by Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Clegg, and sent to the White House.

President Hoover was prepared to administer a prompt veto, but over-weighing value for the measure in House and Senate virtually assured passage over a veto.
Insurance reached the Capitol from downtown that the President intended to veto the legislation within 48 hours after receiving it.

Years were entertained in some Senate quarters that a pocket veto might be administered by the President, thus preventing an opportunity for a vote to override a veto. Orders have been dispatched to regional offices to prepare for the text, as part of the general policy of the Veterans Bureau of keeping pace of legislation while it is pending in Congress.

DOCTOR CALLS DEATH CHAIR A CRIME MAKER

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 20 (AP).—Citing the fact that England and California are endeavoring to rid their statute books on the death penalty for murder, Dr. Russell Finch, for eight years physician at the Marquette state penitentiary, today fired a verbal broadside at the movement to introduce capital punishment in Michigan.

"The State Senate has passed a bill providing for a referendum in April on the death measure. The bill now before the House. Indications are it may be passed. 'Criminals never give the punishment a thought,' said the prison physician. 'There is more crime in states that have capital punishment than those that have not.'

"There will be more criminals in Michigan if the death law is passed. Dangerous men, who would otherwise be in prison will be at large, because they will not be convicted when they are tried."

TWO KILLED IN HOLDUP FIGHT

New York, Feb. 20 (AP).—A wounded robber, who fled leaving his pal dead, was sought today for killing a detective in a gun fight that frustrated a cafe holdup. Strutting up Lexington ave. last night, Detectives Christopher W. Schueing and Edmund Pape followed two men into a cafe at the corner of 5th st. They were in the act of holding up a group of customers, including two women. A glove on his right hand, Schueing didn't have a chance to draw his gun. The holdup men drilled him with three bullets and he died instantly. Pape returned the fire and one of the robbers dropped with a bullet in his heart. The other fled with two wounds in the shoulder.

The dead gunman later was identified as Albert Chocchia, 32, an ex-convict, with a criminal record dating to 1914. His wife was taken in to custody for questioning. Schueing was married and the father of two children.

BAN JOHNSON HAS RALLY

St. Louis, Feb. 20 (AP).—Following a painful night, Ban Johnson, former head of the American League, has a "fighting chance" to pull through his present illness, his physician, Dr. Robert F. Hyland, said today. Johnson's condition, up to last night, had been growing steadily worse, but today he was able to sit up for a short time. The former baseball star underwent a blood transfusion yesterday which was followed by a chill. The condition of his foot, following amputation of a toe recently, was growing better, Dr. Hyland said, and whether baseball's star, old figure will recover depends on "his frame of mind" and his blood.

Mrs. Johnson arrived in St. Louis from Spencer, Ind., last night and was at the bedside of her husband this morning.

Billy Sunday Getting Up Steam to Fight the Devil

MA SUNDAY is an early riser with her husband, and by 8 o'clock they are seated at the breakfast table for their best meal of the day. This, she says, makes him ready to fight the devil till sunset. (Staff photos.)

BILLY SUNDAY is a fast worker all the time and it takes him only ten minutes in the morning to take aboard his grapefruit, oatmeal, eggs and milk. His energy thus renewed it is one mad dash for him from then until his noon address.

CHAPLIN FLEES LONDON CROWD

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin slipped out a side door of his hotel today and ran off down Pall Mall for a quiet walk, incognito so to speak.

BILLY STRONG ON BREAKFAST

A sparkling grapefruit, tasty oatmeal, scrambled eggs and bacon, topped off by a fresh glass of milk—and "Billy" Sunday, champion "devil twister," is ready for the day.

As he attacks sin in a dynamic, unrelenting frenzy, so "Billy" goes after the courses that comprise his daily breakfast.

It's the best meal.

"Give me a good, wholesome breakfast and I'll fight the devil till sunset," the veteran evangelist campaigner said today. "The old motto, 'An army travels on its stomach,' goes especially well in the morning."

At 8 o'clock he and Mrs. Sunday are seated in the Parkey House dining room. Breakfast is over in 10 minutes, for there's no time to be lost in preparing the final touches on his daily sermon.

From then on it's one mad dash for "Billy" up in the time he faces the thousands who wait for him in the Tremont Temple every day at noon.

Ma-in-Law's Kisses "Cruel" to Husband

BILL TO BLOCK RAIL GRAB BY HOLDING PLAN

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Prompt enactment of a law to place railroad holding companies under jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission was advocated in the House today by Chairman Parker of its Interstate Commerce Committee.

The recommendation was made in connection with a report on an investigation begun at the instance of the commission, which complained it was without power to prevent rail consolidations through holding companies.

Parker proposed an amendment to the Interstate Commerce act, suggesting that when it is passed "it should be made clear that it does not give immunity to any company which before the effective date of the amendment had acquired control of some railroad in violation of an existing statute."

He said that soon the Interstate Commerce Commission would have to consider the proposed consolidations of Eastern trunk lines into four gigantic systems, including the Van Sweringen lines, Pennsylvania, New York, Central and Baltimore & Ohio.

"The Congress may find it necessary to clothe the commission with power to compel divestiture of the ownership of railroad stock where the commission would find that such ownership had been acquired contrary to the public interest," he said.

It was proposed to broaden the investigation authorized by the House "to include all holding companies engaged in interstate commerce."

Read what Mr. James V. Russo, 109 Cedar street, Roxbury, near Boston, says about Konjola. Then visit the Konjola Man at the Epstein drug store, Epstein's Scollay Square, Boston. He will tell you of Mr. Russo, who ends:

"For some time I have suffered with constipation. I tried everything, but there was no relief. My bowels were in a disordered condition. I had bilious attacks and sick headaches. I had no energy or ambition, and got-up in the morning feeling tired and out of breath. My back, pains, crossed my back, and nervousness never let me have a good night's sleep. Konjola was recommended to me. After using it, my system is cleansed and my bowels, stomach, liver and kidneys are working in normal condition. I found the right medicine in Konjola."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-damaging chemicals, no habit-forming medicine and every drop works. Demand Konjola, and get it—don't be deceived by cheap substitutes.

WIFE OF SLAIN GANG CHIEF FLEES KILLERS

New York, Feb. 20.—Discovery of a warning letter has convinced police that the wife of Frank Marco, slain gangster, has fled from her hotel in fear that she was to be the next victim of the killers.

No trace has been found of Mrs. Marco, former wife of Harry Goldstein, night club entertainer, but a search of her room revealed a letter sent her from Chicago, by Marco, according to police.

CHICAGO CONNECTIONS
The letter, undated, was written some time before Marco's bullet-riddled body was thrown from an automobile at East River and 10th st. last Tuesday morning.

It read:

"Dear Ed—Get your telegram here at Chi. Don't use this address any longer. I want to warn you about keeping quiet. You know what happened to Lil. I know, baby, that you wouldn't deliberately open your mouth and say things, but you get gabby when you're drinking. Take care of yourself and may see you soon."

Police said "Ed" was a pet name for Mrs. Marco, but they were unable to determine the identity of "Lil."

They were familiar with Marco's long record as a racketeer, and said he had earned himself a reputation as bootlegger, racketeer, and gang leader in Chicago.

He is said to have been sought for questioning in connection with the slaying of "Jake" Lange, Chicago newspaperman.

KIDNAP RACKET BARRED
According to reports in the underworld, Marco was killed because New York gangsters disapproved of a kidnapping racket in which he was said to have specialized.

These reports have it that in the face of warnings Marco kidnapped a speakeasy proprietor, whose release he held for $100,000 ransom, but was forced to release him without payment.

Marco's family in Cleveland thought him a successful salesman, and did not learn the truth until his body was found.

SHOCK TO FAMILY
His brother, Frank, dealer in dried fruits, looked sadly at the body in the morgue and said:

"This is the greatest shock I've had in my life. The family is greatly shocked, too. We thought he was a clear salesman; that's what he told us. I met Frankie's wife only once; that was a year and a half ago. I understood her maiden name had been Richman."

He said that because of his mother's serious illness, she had not been informed of the slaying of her son. The body will be sent to Cleveland for burial.

WAR MEMOIRS OF MARSHAL FOCH

FOCH PREPARES FOR ALLIES TO PRESS ON AFTER VICTORY

By MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH, Commander-in-Chief of the Allied Armies During the Closing Phases of the World War

Translated from the French by Colonel T. Bentley Mott

AFTER THREE WEEKS of fighting, the second battle of the Marne came to an end. After having been interrupted by the Germans on July 15, it had been resumed by the Allies on July 18 and continued to the end of the year.

A fortunate combination of circumstances had enabled American, British, Italian and French divisions to take part in it. The results were important: 20,000 prisoners; more than 600 guns, 200 machine-guns and 3000 machine guns captured; the front shortened by 28 miles; the Paris-Chartres railway line re-established and the menace against Paris removed.

After four months in the defensive, imposed upon us by the enemy's numerical superiority, a vigorous counter-offensive has once more placed in our hands the initiative of operations.

It was essential to regain this mastery, by re-creating the phases of the attack and developing our efforts in a series of well-ordered actions. We must therefore bring into play all the Allied resources as rapidly as possible.

I drew up the following memorandum on July 2, 1918:

"The offensive taken by the French Fifth and Sixth Armies has turned it into defeat.

This defeat must, first of all, be explained thoroughly on the field of battle itself. This is why we are preparing our attack without pause and with all our energy.

The enemy's defeat forces a book on which should rest the general attitude to be adopted by the Allied Armies.

The Allies already attained equality in the number of battalions, at least, and in a more general sense, in the number of combatants, though superior in the total number of divisions is not yet on our side.

The Germans have been compelled to throw so many divisions into action that, for the first time, we have a superiority in reserves.

Moreover, all available reinforcements in the present hour, returned to the state of having to bring to arms an army for occupying the line, and to be sacrificed, and a whole army, manœuvring behind the enemy's position of the other. This shock army has been already greatly weakened.

The Turning Point Allied Armies Now Able to Stay on Offensives

In addition, the Allies have a material superiority in aviation, which is beyond dispute; also in tanks. In artillery our advantage is based to be increased when and as the American artillery arrives.

Finally, in the rear of the Allied armies, the powerful reserve of the American forces, 250,000 men every month onto the soil of France, while on the enemy's side, we know the great resources which he has been forced to take in order to meet the crisis in the supply of men.

In addition to all these indications that the factor of material force is veering around in our favor there can be added the

What SOCONY is doing for Socony Employees

[[From an Editorial in Buffalo Courier-Express, February 9, 1931]]

APENSION and industrial insurance system which government aiders and the public generally might well study with profit, has been announced by the Standard Oil Company of New York. The effect of it will be, briefly, that an employee retiring after 35 years of service will receive as an annuity about 70 per cent of his average pay.

"In 1903 the Standard of New York started the annuity plan which the new system displaces. At that time it had 8,000 employees; it now has 45,000.

"Under the Standard's new system, men are to be retired at the age of 65 and women at the age of 55, on annuities that will amount, roughly, to 2 per cent of their average previous salary multiplied by the number of years in the company's service. Provision is also made, independently of the pension feature, for death and disability benefits. Both the company and the employees contribute to the cost of the insurance, the company paying about three-fourths and the employees about one-fourth.

"The Standard's new plan is an important contribution to the movement all over the world to assure economic independence to old age. Moreover, those who are of little faith as regards our financial future might well take some comfort from the confidence which the Standard manifests by investing at this time so heavily in annuity insurance for its employees."

This American Beauty Said 'No' When Prince of Wales Requested Just One Dance on Ship

SHUT DOWN A PRINCE. The good ship Orpheus was steaming to Cuba from Bermuda and a goodly crowd was there, including the Prince of Wales and Miss Mary Kane, who was taking a vacation from magazine covers.

ON THE BEACH AT LA PLAYA, Havana. You can see that she is extremely decorative. Well, the Prince asked her for a dance. Was she tickled? Guess again. Miss Kane said "That Yankee newspaper fella has taken my program."

DREAMING MAYBE. But if Miss Kane is dreaming about somebody—this probably that newspaper boy. The Prince will tell you he didn't make a conquest.

TURNED DOWN. The new experience should make Prince Edward feel that this trip hasn't been wasted. He looks pensive here. (International Newsweek photo.)

Mother of Three Given Probation. Mrs. Mary Cook, 38, of Hancock St., Lawrence, mother of three children, was placed on probation with a warning by Judge Good in municipal court today after he found her guilty of attempted larceny of the purse of a woman shopper. COOK-COOS

By Ted Cook
Variety reports that a Chicago nightclub is no longer interested in the stocks, but want to see radio performers instead. Just another proof that the American public is getting more and more into radio.

Next time Harvard students throw eggs at Rudy Vallee, he should throw the Maine Stein long right back at them.

None of the eggs hit Vallee in the mezzanine, but one did get into the front row of the audience on the first floor.

It is hard sometimes, at that, to tell just what influence the boys are under.

TARR WINS IN FIGHT FOR JOB

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—After hearing charges against the resignation of Frederick H. Tarr to be U. S. Attorney for Massachusetts, Chairman Robinson of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, announced today he would make a unanimous favorable report to the full committee Monday on the resignation.

W. Crocker, general counsel of the Liberal Civil League of Boston, made a series of charges against Tarr, including one that he was "viciously partisan" in the 1920 campaign in Massachusetts in behalf of Senator William M. Butler, Republican, and opposed to repeal of the state prohibition enforcement act.

Tarr appeared before the subcommittee and denied the charges after which Senator Robinson, announced he would make his report Monday.

Mammy Goose CAN'T Cough

"RADIO people must be particularly careful of their voices," says Miss Malone, whose original sketches and songs have made "Mammy Goose" a household word to thousands. "Hushness or coughs would just ruin a program."
That's why so many radio entertainers like to take Pepsin away from them. They can rely on it to restore their voices quickly.
They like it, too, because it is entirely free from narcotics and injurious drugs and is pleasant to take. These winter months are coughing months. Watch out! Take Pepsin. It's so safe, doctors have prescribed it for children's coughs for 35 years. It gets at the cause of the irritation. Stop in at our drugstore for a bottle today.

DEBS DAYS OF LUXURY AND FUN—WORKING GIRLS TOIL AND REWARD

"THE DEBUTANTE HAS GAY PARTIES—HER GOOD TIMES ARE ALWAYS PLANNED FOR HER."

"DOROTHY AND BEAUTIFUL DOROTHY ARE ALWAYS TO BE SEEN."

"SHE HAS PRIVILEGE—OUT THE THRILL OF ACCOMPLISHMENT IS DONE."

THE AVERAGE DEBUTANTE with her lack of ability to work out own destinies are painted in accompanying articles by Mrs. Dorothy Whipple Fry, a social registerite of Brookline. Mrs. Fry indicates that the average girl who doesn't have to figure out where the next meal comes from loses a great deal more than the girl who toils daily.

THRILL OF TASK WELL DONE RESTS WITH WORKER, MRS. FRY SAYS

Pampered Debutante Enjoys Only Pleasures, Declares Social Registerite

By MRS. DOROTHY W. FRY
(Today, Mrs. Dorothy Whipple Fry, of Brookline, social registerite, declares for Boston Evening American readers the contrasting attitudes of life of the debutante and the working girl. Mrs. Fry, the daughter of the late Sherman J. Whipple, is the mother of four young daughters and one son. She is a mistress of considerable prominence.)

The working girl and the debutante are they sisters under the skin?

Do they seek the same things? Do they have the same points of view?

Do they both want happiness? Or is luxury and good times, smart clothes and admirers the aim for both girls?

It is of great interest to compare the point of view of a girl who works for a living with that of a girl who has never had to work in whom the treasure-chest of life seems to be always open.

One has gay parties, the other hard work. The debutante has frivolity; the working girl has satisfaction.

ILLUSION LOST MOST

Of course, primarily it must be frankly admitted that the point of view of either girl and what she gets out of life depends on the type she is at heart. There are girls who never lose their sense of values and their appreciation of the things of life that count most, no matter what walk of life they are in.

But taking the average girl to whom life is made so easy, who never has to worry about where her next meal is coming from, who has always dainty and beautiful clothes to wear and for whom good times are always planned, it seems that the girl who dally puts life to rest.

In the working girl has worries, but the thrill of accomplishment that is her great asset. And if anyone thinks that she can get pleasure from life by seeking it, she is wrong. The girl who earns her good times has the appreciation of them.

And the girl who relies that in thoughtfulness of others lies the secret of happiness is the one to whom the greatest joy comes.

MEET IN BEING HARRY

Of late a great many girls who have been offered a year of safety and social pleasure have realized the emptiness of this life and have returned to enter into it. They are for to take jobs and employ their time to better advantage than to follow the vacuous round of social duty.

Just at this time, however, at though I can greatly sympathize with and understand their desire to do this, the debutantes should stop for a moment to consider whether in these hard times, they who are well provided for have the right to take jobs from girls who actually need the money to live.

There is great merit always in being happy and content in circumstances in which one is placed. To take the viewpoint one finds of hand rather than sighing for the "king's bright" life is to be greatly commended. It is so easy to say "if I had that or this new different it would be."

That is not so, because after all I said about the different point of view of the working girl and the social butterfly. Kipling was right when he said, "They are sisters under the skin."

THRILL OF TASK WELL DONE RESTS WITH WORKER, MRS. FRY SAYS

Pampered Debutante Enjoys Only Pleasures, Declares Social Registerite

By MRS. DOROTHY W. FRY
(Today, Mrs. Dorothy Whipple Fry, of Brookline, social registerite, declares for Boston Evening American readers the contrasting attitudes of life of the debutante and the working girl. Mrs. Fry, the daughter of the late Sherman J. Whipple, is the mother of four young daughters and one son. She is a mistress of considerable prominence.)

The working girl and the debutante are they sisters under the skin?

Do they seek the same things? Do they have the same points of view?

Do they both want happiness? Or is luxury and good times, smart clothes and admirers the aim for both girls?

It is of great interest to compare the point of view of a girl who works for a living with that of a girl who has never had to work in whom the treasure-chest of life seems to be always open.

One has gay parties, the other hard work. The debutante has frivolity; the working girl has satisfaction.

ILLUSION LOST MOST

Of course, primarily it must be frankly admitted that the point of view of either girl and what she gets out of life depends on the type she is at heart. There are girls who never lose their sense of values and their appreciation of the things of life that count most, no matter what walk of life they are in.

But taking the average girl to whom life is made so easy, who never has to worry about where her next meal is coming from, who has always dainty and beautiful clothes to wear and for whom good times are always planned, it seems that the girl who dally puts life to rest.

In the working girl has worries, but the thrill of accomplishment that is her great asset. And if anyone thinks that she can get pleasure from life by seeking it, she is wrong. The girl who earns her good times has the appreciation of them.

And the girl who relies that in thoughtfulness of others lies the secret of happiness is the one to whom the greatest joy comes.

MEET IN BEING HARRY

Of late a great many girls who have been offered a year of safety and social pleasure have realized the emptiness of this life and have returned to enter into it. They are for to take jobs and employ their time to better advantage than to follow the vacuous round of social duty.

Just at this time, however, at

though I can greatly sympathize with and understand their desire to do this, the debutantes should stop for a moment to consider whether in these hard times, they who are well provided for have the right to take jobs from girls who actually need the money to live.

There is great merit always in being happy and content in circumstances in which one is placed. To take the viewpoint one finds of hand rather than sighing for the "king's bright" life is to be greatly commended. It is so easy to say "if I had that or this new

That is not so, because after all I said about the different point of view of the working girl and the social butterfly. Kipling was right when he said, "They are sisters under the skin."

CRAFT'S DEFIED BY BONAZZOLI

A crime that Anti-Dist-Atty. Frank A. Craft, of Middlesex County called him a "liar" and ruled today in 23rd district court by Mario Bonazzoli, Hudson garage owner, one of ten defendants charged with defrauding insurance companies on automobile accident claims.

Bonazzoli said the lie was hurled at a conference in Craft's office at the time the garage man was indicted.

"I told him I was telling the truth and if that was his attitude I would fight the case," the defendant replied.

Bonazzoli testified an accident on which he collected damages, was his own and his brother and two other persons testified to his injuries.

Five physicians, a former insurance adjuster and three others are on trial with Bonazzoli for alleged fraud.

Lawyer others pleaded guilty last Monday night of their turn, the State's evidence.

The dramatic scene unfolded in a conference in Craft's office at the time the garage man was indicted.

As both clubs are comfortably installed in first place of their respective divisions, there was no occasion for a rugged contest last night at the Garden when the Bruins and Canadiens battled through 70 minutes to a 1 to 1 tie.

Les Canadiens had played two strenuous games this week. They went through a gruesome battle with the Bruins in New York last Sunday night and on Tuesday they traveled back to Montreal in a contest which took plenty out of them.

On the other hand, the Bruins were entitled to a let-down. They have not lost a game in eight weeks and are no far out in front in the first division championship, that there is no chance of their having to make the final round of the playoffs at the end of 70 minutes of hockey, the game was the most interesting of the season.

Barry Scores After Brilliant Solo Dash

Marty Barry contributed the most spectacular dash of the game in the first period. He stole the puck from Aurel Joliat in the corner and raced for the French star's goal.

By a piece of exceptionally clever stick handling, Barry worked his way through the Canadiens' defense and then beat George Haine with the lone Boston goal.

The Bruins managed their one goal advantage until about the middle of the second period, when Nick Waneau, who had been hustled through by the Canadiens' defense, was not stopped by the Bruins' defense. Joliat, from the puck forward just as he was checked and Waneau, dashing in from the wing, back handed a shot into the Boston net.

For the remaining 40 minutes the clubs battled at top speed, but they were unable to break the tie.

THE TRUE STORIES

Jane Foils Hold-up

MRS. DORA JORDAN sat in the library of her upstairs apartment, glancing through a newspaper account of a hold-up in a night club. Dora was glad that her taste did not run to night clubs, she preferred the theater, little things like that. This reflection brought a smile to her lips as she realized that for the very first time she was to have one of those dinners, for it was her 25th birthday.

She felt into a reverie over her five years' happiness with Jack, Jane, the good, reliable, and loyal.

"You'll excuse me, ma'am, but I'm all out of olive oil and pepper. I'll need them for the dinner."

"All right, Jane. Phone for them."

"I'll only take five minutes to run and get them myself. Then I'll be sure to have them."

"Goodbye, Jane."

Mrs. Jordan smiled her content and relaxed into another day dream as Jane left.

She was aroused by the rattle of a key in the hall door. Finding her pretty brown hair, she swung into the living room as Jack entered. The next instant she was in his arms. Then her young husband held her off at arm's length.

"Congratulations!" he exclaimed. "You're a knockout! You're a fairy princess! But on a dress, still, don't forget your hair."

"You mean to say that I'm not a fairy princess?" Dora asked her husband hopefully.

"Of course, my dear, but I mean that you're a knockout in that package he brought."

"I'll let you see it," she said. "I'll let you see it."

"I'll let you see it," she said. "I'll let you see it."

"I'll let you see it," she said. "I'll let you see it."

"I'll let you see it," she said. "I'll let you see it."

What's in Fashion? Dresses That Are—or Look—Two-Piece

Edited by AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—This spring, you're going to have a chance to greet an old friend you haven't seen for quite some time. The two-piece dress.

And there also a new kind of dress—one that looks two-piece but is really one-piece—that just as much in fashion as the real two-piece dress.

You'll find it in all kinds of day-time, dressy and elegant, even in evening dress, sporty, and in dressier afternoon types.

And it'll look like one of three things—either like a skirt and short tunic blouse, or like a jacket and skirt, or like a skirt and tunic blouse.

Some of these dresses that look like a skirt and tunic blouse actually are just that. Others are really one-piece dresses but made to look like a skirt and short tunic blouse.

And one favorite way of doing this is shown in the center sketch. A dress with a skirt of one color and bodice of another color.

Jacket Effect
Such a dress would probably have a jacket-like skirt—one that matches the skirt. And when the jacket is worn, the costume looks like a suit.

You can tell from the pictures whether the other two pieces are a skirt and blouse, or a jacket and skirt, or a skirt and tunic blouse.

It's not to be confused with the style that we call a two-piece dress, which is a one-piece dress, but made to look like a skirt and short tunic blouse.

Preventing Scarlet Fever

By DR. COPELAND

SCARLET FEVER is the most contagious of all the diseases that come to plague our children. It is like diphtheria, it is a disease that should be prevented.

Many authorities believe that the use of certain vaccines, such as the "Scarlet Fever Vaccine," can prevent the disease.
